The Glénat publishing house was founded in 1969 and celebrates its 55th birthday this year. To mark the occasion, the Huberty & Breyne gallery is hosting a collective exhibition of paintings, drawings and original comic book plates at its Brussels venue, in place du Châtelain, from 21 June to 27 July 2024. The collection, featuring some of the best-known exponents of the comic genre, gives pride of place to authors published by Glénat. This exhibition, which takes us from the world of Lone Sloane to that of Mickey and Baudelaire, and from heroic fantasy to the story of Freemasonry, is an invitation to dream and a unique opportunity to discover a diverse range of works that rely on a wealth of graphic techniques, employing both black and white and colour, along with supports and formats that offer some surprises.

HUBERTY & BREYNE

Huberty & Breyne is a contemporary art gallery specialising in original cartoon work. Operating out of Brussels and Paris under the direction of Alain Huberty and Marc Breyne, the gallery – which has been in existence for almost 30 years – represents both established and up-and-coming artists linked to, or inspired by, the 9th art.

Its exhibitions of original plates, paintings and sculptures champion contemporary art in all its guises and provide a platform for the crossover of different disciplines. A key reference point in the world of comic art, the Huberty & Breyne gallery offers collectors a rigorous selection of works by both household names and promising newcomers.

The gallery is closely involved with the contemporary art market scene and a contributor at major international fairs such as Brafa (Brussels Antiques & Fine Arts Fair), 1 – 54 London, Art Paris and Drawing Now. It occupies a 1,000m<sup>2</sup> exhibition space in Brussels, in place du Châtelain, and two further exhibition spaces in Paris, in avenue Matignon and rue Chapon.

Aside from running the gallery, Alain Huberty and Marc Breyne also advise auction houses regarding the sale of works of comic art.
