PARIS | Les Arts dessinés

19 rue Chapon,
Paris 3^e

From 2 to 23 September, the Huberty & Breyne | Les Arts dessinés gallery is delighted to be showing work by author and illustrator Yves Got, well known for his cynical comic strips engaging with politics and current events.

Yves Got was born in Cahors on 31 October 1939. He enrolled at New York's School of Visual Art, and in 1976 he created the comic series "Le Baron noir" for L'Écho des Savanes. Scripted by René Pétillon, the series looked at contemporary life through the lens of a cruelly exaggerated animal world.

Alongside his work as a comic book author, Got contributed illustrations to Le Monde, Libération and Le Canard enchaîné, and to a handful of issues of Pilote and Métal hurlant.

In 1985, he started teaching drawing at the École Émile-Cohl, in Lyon, and since 2000 Got has been creating books about a white rabbit called Didou in a series designed for very young children.

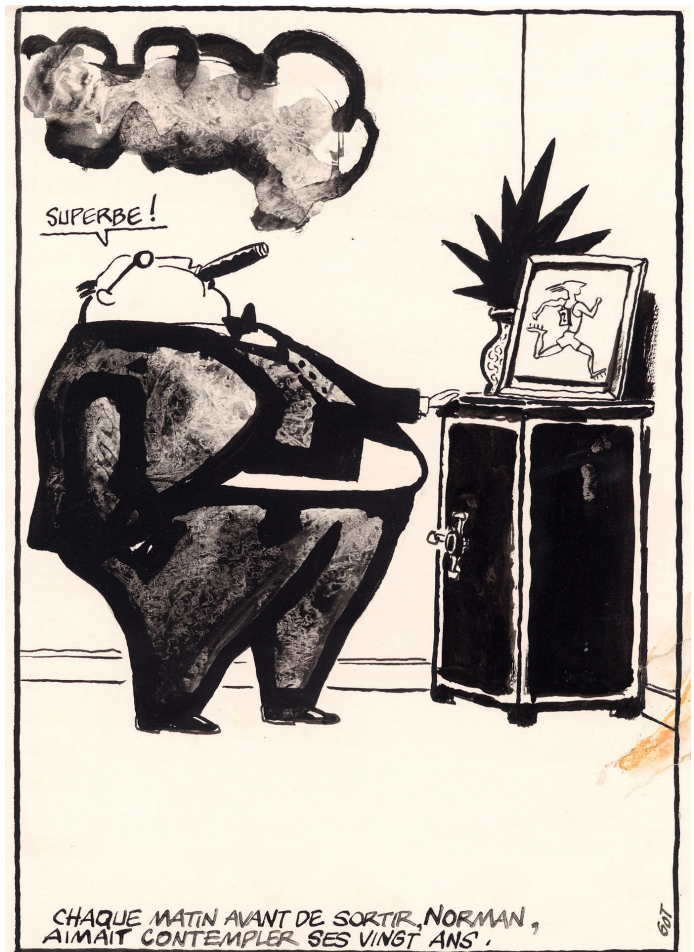

This exhibition will be showing several plates from "Le Baron noir", as well as some of Got's press illustrations and other comic drawings.

Le Baron Noir, Conversation en vol (détail) - 15,5 x 41,5 cm

Got 23 - 19,8 x 13,3 cm

Les vingt ans - 25,5 x 17,8 cm

HUBERTY & BREYNE

Huberty & Breyne is a contemporary art gallery specialising in original cartoon work. Operating out of Brussels and Paris under the direction of Alain Huberty and Marc Breyne, the gallery – which has been in existence for almost 30 years – represents both established and up-and-coming artists linked to, or inspired by, the 9th art.

Its exhibitions of original plates, paintings and sculptures champion contemporary art in all its guises and provide a platform for the crossover of different disciplines. A key reference point in the world of comic art, the Huberty & Breyne gallery offers collectors a rigorous selection of works by both household names and promising newcomers.

The gallery is closely involved with the contemporary art market scene and a contributor at major international fairs such as Brafa (Brussels Antiques & Fine Arts Fair), 1 – 54 London, Art Paris and Drawing Now. It occupies a 1,000m² exhibition space in Brussels, in place du Châtelain, and two further exhibition spaces in Paris, in avenue Matignon and rue Chapon. The latter – the Huberty & Breyne | Les Arts dessinés gallery – is dedicated to contemporary drawing under the direction of Frédéric Bossier.

Aside from running the gallery, Alain Huberty and Marc Breyne also advise auction houses regarding the sale of works of comic art.
