Au parc, 1 - 2025 - Acrylic on canva - 100 x 81 cm - Signed bottom right

A young woman engrossed in a game of cards on a bed. A cat curled in an armchair with its back firmly turned. A man lost in the crowd at a chic nightclub. A woman in a theatre, leaning on a balustrade; another sitting in a park, gazing into space... While Jean-Claude Götting's previous series of paintings featured multiple figures, for this new exhibition the artist has opted to represent figures in isolation.

Götting may be emphasising the notion of absence. Or celebrating silence, perhaps. At any event, what we have here are more of the artist's precious snapshots from life. These precisely rendered scenes (executed in acrylic) are shrouded in mystery and invite the viewer to formulate his or her own story. The composition of each of these works is an object lesson in harmony and contrasts, the whole supported by a vibrant colour palette.

T-shirt blanc - 2025 - Acrylic on canva - 100 x 81 cm - Signed bottom right

Five rare engraved wood panels also form part of the exhibition, together with a selection of original comic book plates and black and white illustrations on the gallery's mezzanine floor.

HUBERTY & BREYNE

Huberty & Breyne is a contemporary art gallery specializing in comic books, founded in 1989 and now run by Alain Huberty and Marie-Caroline Bronzini. With locations in Brussels and Paris, it promotes established and emerging artists linked to or inspired by the 9th art.

Its exhibitions of original comic strips, paintings, and sculptures support contemporary creation in all its diversity and the blending of disciplines. An international reference in the field of the ninth art, it offers collectors a rigorous selection of works by classic and promising artists.

The gallery takes part in major art market events, participating in international fairs such as Brafa, Art Paris, and Drawing Now. It has a 1,000 m² space in Brussels, on Place du Châtelain, and two spaces in Paris, on Avenue Matignon and Rue Chapon.

In addition to his gallery activities, Alain Huberty is a comic book expert for auction houses.
