At first, there is a vague idea. It is blurred and indistinct. Then, the mind guides the hand, and the image that was once only imagined begins to take shape, assuming a new form that still needs to be expressed more clearly. This is where the lines multiply, where possibilities emerge and become concrete. This stage is the hidden side of creation, impossible to guess when one is captivated by the final result, for which choices had to be made, decisions taken, and color added... Often, this stage, considered intermediate, disappears. In Olivier Ledroit's case, this is not so. It is preserved, the final work being completed on another medium.

HUBERTY & BREYNE

Huberty & Breyne is a contemporary art gallery specializing in comic books, founded in 1989 and now run by Alain Huberty and Marie-Caroline Bronzini. With locations in Brussels and Paris, it promotes established and emerging artists linked to or inspired by the 9th art.

Its exhibitions of original comic strips, paintings, and sculptures support contemporary creation in all its diversity and the blending of disciplines. An international reference in the field of the ninth art, it offers collectors a rigorous selection of works by classic and promising artists.

The gallery takes part in major art market events, participating in international fairs such as Brafa, Art Paris, and Drawing Now. It has a 1,000 m² space in Brussels, on Place du Châtelain, and two spaces in Paris, on Avenue Matignon and Rue Chapon.

In addition to his gallery activities, Alain Huberty is a comic book expert for auction houses.
